Dear Jim:-

I was very glad indeed to get your good letter of October 30 before leaving for Boston and Harvard. I spent last week up there and was delighted to have Bill phone me and then come over to see me at Shurman Hall on Thursday. He said he was very well and very happy about his work and associations at Harvard. He did express some dislike for the food served in the cafeterias and I judged he missed his mother's good home cooking.

I judge he is on a debating team that is preparing to discuss the state "right-to-work" laws. He asked to bring some friends to discuss the negative side of the subject with me. Three others came with him one of whom was his faculty advisor. I did not get their names but they were all wide awake, wholesome young men. We had quite a discussion and I hope it will prove helpful to them.

I did not have much of an opportunity to talk to Bill alone. I asked him about his plans for the summer. He indicated that he was hoping to get the job with the Washington Post that he looked forward to having had last summer. I advised him to be sure and let me know if he thought I could be helpful to him in any way. I expect he might be able to get a job for the summer with the national office of the United Steelworkers of America in Pittsburgh. I do know that in the past they have taken on one or two students who have been attached to the Education Department and have had opportunities to be useful both in the office and to some extent in the field. If this would be of interest to him I will be glad to speak to the officers in Pittsburgh in his behalf.

You must be very busy indeed with all your teaching, writing, traveling, etc. And Dutch must be equally busy with all her interests and activities. Thanks for your generous invitation to visit you when we are in the south this winter. At the moment this looks hardly possible. We want to get to Altamonte Springs, Fla., by December 18. I will have to leave shortly thereafter to keep a speaking engagement in Minneapolis on December 21. I will have to make two trips to Washington and New York during January by plane in each case. And we do want to spend some time to just rest and relax before we start back north about March 1. Phil Clowes, the district director of the Steelworkers Union who has charge of Florida and Mississippi, suggests that I may be of some assistance to him in addressing Union meetings while I am in Florida. If I do this, it might bring me out your way for a day or two. At any rate I will be in touch with you later.

Please give my best regards to Dutch and the other good friends there at the University. With good wishes,

Sincerely,

Leunt (Golden)
